RONALD REAGAN, Governor

HENRY M. SHINE, Director

Board Rule 786—Repealed

Repeal of Board Rule 786 "joint license" renewals has not eliminated the necessity for all members of the joint license entity to renew their respective individual, copartnership or corporate license. Board Rule 717 defines a "joint license" as any license issued to any association of persons, firms, partnerships or corporations, each member of which association holds a separate license, current, valid, and in good standing. It is our administrative determination this requirement applies not only at the time of issuance of the joint venture license, but at any time the validity of the license is subject to scrutiny.

The effect of the repeal of Board Rule 786 is to eliminate the suspense file at renewal time created by the requirement that each member of the joint venture license entity be renewed first. Priority of renewal is no longer a factor of the renewal process. It is expected all licensees will renew timely.

A member of a joint venture license entity may hold a license which is inactive—in good standing. Such inactive license must not be under suspension or otherwise disqualified.

IT'S ABOUT TIME—

RENEWAL OF STATE CONTRACTOR'S LICENSE, 1967-69

All State Contractor's Licenses expire June 30, 1967.

During the second week of May 1967, a state contractor's license application for 1967-69 will be mailed to each licensee at his address of record. Any change of address not previously reported should be submitted immediately to the Contractors' State License Board, 1020 N Street, Sacramento 95814. An unreported change of address could result in the renewal

HENRY ELY

Meet Henry Ely, attorney at law and executive secretary and general counsel for the Air Conditioning and Refrigeration Contractors Association of Southern California, Inc. He is also a delegate to the Construction Industry Legislative Council and, as a registered lobbyist, spends much of his time in Sacramento working on behalf of the council and the air conditioning and refrigeration industry.

Henry was born in Denver, Colorado. He attended the famous Williams College in Massachusetts and earned his law degree at Harvard University, where he studied under such legal giants as Felix Frankfurter, subsequently a distinguished Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court. After graduation Henry remained at Harvard under a fellowship, writing a book on "Future Interests" for the university.

After completing his fellowship, Henry came to California and worked in the noted law firm of Gibson, Dunn and Crutcher in Los Angeles where he began to specialize in the field of labor relations. After seven years with the law firm he started his own practice. This was interrupted during World War II while Henry served as director of personnel at the Los Angeles Shipyard at San Pedro. With the end of the war Henry again entered private practice and assumed his present association position in 1951.

Henry and his wife Mary live in Cheviot Hills in West Los Angeles, where Henry pursues his hobby of gardening. His "green thumb" talents are evidenced by the fact that the Cheviot Hills Garden Club picked the Elys' garden as one of the select few on last year's annual garden tour.

Henry has a son studying at Pasadena City College and a married daughter living in La Jolla.

In addition to his many activities with the Construction Industry Legislative Council, Henry is a member of the Attorney's Lien Law Committee appointed by the Senate Judiciary Committee. He is a familiar figure at board meetings and his talents have often been used as an adversary or an advocate in matters under consideration by the board. The registrar and his staff look forward to working with him for many years to come.

application being returned to the state board by the post office.

In 1966 the Contractors License Law was amended increasing certain fees. Renewal fees for 1967-69 are $50 for an active license and $15 for an inactive license. The delinquency fee is now 50 percent of the regular renewal fee; that is $25 on an active license and $7.50 on an inactive license. Effective July 31, 1967, the total renewal fee will be $75 for an active license and $22.50 for an inactive license. Renew promptly!

A 1965-67 license may be renewed either as active or inactive. If the holder of a 1965-67 inactive license renews his license as active for 1967-69, he is required to submit the following with his application and fee:

- (1) Applicant's statement of financial ability and condition, Form FS-2;
- (2) A current financial statement prepared by a certified public accountant or a public accountant; and
- (3) A surety bond or cash deposit in the sum of $1,000 (one thousand dollars), unless such bond or cash deposit is on file with the registrar and covers the license being renewed.

The necessary forms and specific information concerning requirements for renewing an inactive license as active may be secured from any office of the Contractors' State License Board.

Changes of address and name style may be reported on the renewal application, but changes of personnel must be reported by a separate letter.

Due to the volume of renewals to be processed at the beginning of the renewal period, the 1967-69 pocket identification card will not reach the licensee for several weeks after his renewal application is filed. However, checks will be deposited promptly. A licensee may use his canceled check as evidence of payment of his renewal fee until he receives his pocket card.

Registrar's Corner

Until further notice to publish, this will be the final issue of the California Licensed Contractor.

In an effort to effect strict economy in the operation of the Contractors' State License Board, the registrar has determined that the service afforded by the agency bulletin can better be dispensed with than another or other vital agency services to the public.

It is my hope that the publication of the California Licensed Contractor can again be undertaken in the future. I am sure it has provided valuable information to the construction industry licensees whose dollars have made its publication possible.

I believe its readers have derived further insight into the purposes and functions of an important state agency and thereby have acquired a fuller understanding of the difficulties and accomplishments of the agency by looking at its record of public service.

To me, it has been a real satisfaction in having been a part of this agency's publication. I feel it has brought the registrar closer to this great construction industry and it has made me more aware of its problems and its promises.

I wish to thank each of you who not only took the time to read the past issues, but also made known to me your approbation in its publication.
